

A terrific sport activity for your group

Paintball is played on an organized field. Two opposing teams compete in a game of capture the flag. You'll use CO2 powered paintball markers that shoot biodegradable capsules of paint to tag or eliminate opponents. Once "hit", that player is out for that game. Capsules break on impact.

A game is won when a player successfully captures the opponent's flag and returns it to his or her station. Games last anywhere from a couple of minutes to half an hour. You will have a chance to play several games in a day. Experienced officials referee all games.

Anybody and Everybody

Paintball is one of the few sports where all ages and physical types compete equally on the same course. Women can be among the most skilled players. You have to use your head to play well. Strategy and team work are the keys to winning.
